

Confirmation of absence of conflicts of interest President of a doctoral thesis jury

According to the Politique relative à l'intégrité et aux conflits d'intérêts en recherche, (Policy on Integrity and Conflict of Interest in Research), each jury member has an obligation to declare any conflict of interest which may exist, in relation to the research activities of this jury panel.

“Conflict of interest” refers to any potential, actual or apparent situation where an individual's personal or business interests, or the interests of a related person, conflict with the interests of their organization, partners or other interest holders, as well as any situation that compromises or is likely to compromise the individual's loyalty, duties, obligations or judgement in the course of their duties.

A “related person” means any person who is related by blood, parentage, adoption or any marital status (spouse), including the spouse's children.

An “interest” is that which one seeks, on behalf of which one acts or which one tries to satisfy or achieve. Interests can be of various kinds, including financial (e.g. shares in a company, capital gain, salary received for a given mandate, gift, promotion, royalties received, etc.), material (e.g. access to scarce resources, use of computer services, obtaining equipment, time to use equipment, premises, etc.), human (e.g. maintaining an interpersonal relationship, access to influential people, etc.) or symbolic (e.g. invitation to a prestigious event, signing of a publication, promise of an honorary title, obtaining a prize or position, etc.).

Joint signing of publications, supervision of internships or research stays, research collaboration, interests in a competing technology, business ties with the person defending the dissertation or other members of the jury are, among others, situations that are conducive to conflicts of interest and should be declared.

The president certifies that, at is knowledge, he or she did not participate to the work included in the thesis, do not have any "financial interest" in link with the work included in the thesis, and is not a "related person" to the student or any member of the jury.

Date

Signature

Name in block letters

Confirmation of absence of conflicts of interest Member of a doctoral thesis jury

According to the Politique relative à l'intégrité et aux conflits d'intérêts en recherche, (Policy on Integrity and Conflict of Interest in Research), each jury member has an obligation to declare any conflict of interest which may exist, in relation to the research activities of this jury panel.

“Conflict of interest” refers to any potential, actual or apparent situation where an individual's personal or business interests, or the interests of a related person, conflict with the interests of their organization, partners or other interest holders, as well as any situation that compromises or is likely to compromise the individual's loyalty, duties, obligations or judgement in the course of their duties.

A “related person” means any person who is related by blood, parentage, adoption or any marital status (spouse), including the spouse's children.

An “interest” is that which one seeks, on behalf of which one acts or which one tries to satisfy or achieve. Interests can be of various kinds, including financial (e.g. shares in a company, capital gain, salary received for a given mandate, gift, promotion, royalties received, etc.), material (e.g. access to scarce resources, use of computer services, obtaining equipment, time to use equipment, premises, etc.), human (e.g. maintaining an interpersonal relationship, access to influential people, etc.) or symbolic (e.g. invitation to a prestigious event, signing of a publication, promise of an honorary title, obtaining a prize or position, etc.).

Joint signing of publications, supervision of internships or research stays, research collaboration, interests in a competing technology, business ties with the person defending the dissertation or other members of the jury are, among others, situations that are conducive to conflicts of interest and should be declared.

The member certifies that, at is knowledge, he or she did not participate to the work included in the thesis, do not have any "financial interest" in link with the work included in the thesis, and is not a "related person" to the student or any member of the jury.

Date

Signature

Name in block letters

Confirmation of absence of conflicts of interest External member of a doctoral thesis jury

According to the Politique relative à l'intégrité et aux conflits d'intérêts en recherche, (Policy on Integrity and Conflict of Interest in Research), each jury member has an obligation to declare any conflict of interest which may exist, in relation to the research activities of this jury panel.

“Conflict of interest” refers to any potential, actual or apparent situation where an individual's personal or business interests, or the interests of a related person, conflict with the interests of their organization, partners or other interest holders, as well as any situation that compromises or is likely to compromise the individual's loyalty, duties, obligations or judgement in the course of their duties.

A “related person” means any person who is related by blood, parentage, adoption or any marital status (spouse), including the spouse's children.

An “interest” is that which one seeks, on behalf of which one acts or which one tries to satisfy or achieve. Interests can be of various kinds, including financial (e.g. shares in a company, capital gain, salary received for a given mandate, gift, promotion, royalties received, etc.), material (e.g. access to scarce resources, use of computer services, obtaining equipment, time to use equipment, premises, etc.), human (e.g. maintaining an interpersonal relationship, access to influential people, etc.) or symbolic (e.g. invitation to a prestigious event, signing of a publication, promise of an honorary title, obtaining a prize or position, etc.).

Joint signing of publications, supervision of internships or research stays, research collaboration, interests in a competing technology, business ties with the person defending the dissertation or other members of the jury are, among others, situations that are conducive to conflicts of interest and should be declared.

The external member certifies that, at is knowledge, his of her judgment of the research activites presented within the framework of this thesis defense is impartial and independent, e.g. he or she has no direct or indirect links (e.g. related person, past relationship) since the past 5 years with the person defending his or her thesis or any member of the jury that is likely to condition his decision, subordinate his or her judgment or interfere with his or her decision-making autonomy.

Date

Signature

Name in block letters

Confirmation of absence of conflicts of interest Representative of a doctoral thesis jury

According to the Politique relative à l'intégrité et aux conflits d'intérêts en recherche, (Policy on Integrity and Conflict of Interest in Research), each jury member has an obligation to declare any conflict of interest which may exist, in relation to the research activities of this jury panel.

“Conflict of interest” refers to any potential, actual or apparent situation where an individual's personal or business interests, or the interests of a related person, conflict with the interests of their organization, partners or other interest holders, as well as any situation that compromises or is likely to compromise the individual's loyalty, duties, obligations or judgement in the course of their duties.

A “related person” means any person who is related by blood, parentage, adoption or any marital status (spouse), including the spouse's children.

An “interest” is that which one seeks, on behalf of which one acts or which one tries to satisfy or achieve. Interests can be of various kinds, including financial (e.g. shares in a company, capital gain, salary received for a given mandate, gift, promotion, royalties received, etc.), material (e.g. access to scarce resources, use of computer services, obtaining equipment, time to use equipment, premises, etc.), human (e.g. maintaining an interpersonal relationship, access to influential people, etc.) or symbolic (e.g. invitation to a prestigious event, signing of a publication, promise of an honorary title, obtaining a prize or position, etc.).

Joint signing of publications, supervision of internships or research stays, research collaboration, interests in a competing technology, business ties with the person defending the dissertation or other members of the jury are, among others, situations that are conducive to conflicts of interest and should be declared.

The Direction des études supérieures representative certifies that, at is knowledge, he or she has no direct or indirect links (e.g. related person, past relationship) with the person defending his or her thesis, the research director or the research co-director which is likely to harm his or her decision-making autonomy.

Date

Signature

Name in block letters