

PUBLIC COMMUNICATION GUIDELINES

The guidelines for acknowledging support from the TransMedTech Institute and its primary funding partner, the Canada First Excellence Research Fund Award, must be respected by all winners of the TransMedTech Institute's competitions.

Medical Technology Co-development Project

In all professional publications, reports, presentations, conferences material and other communications, professors, researchers and clinicians who have received funding in cash and/or in kind from the TransMedTech Institute must acknowledge the contribution by using the following wording:

"This research was conducted as part of the TransMedTech Institute's activities and thanks, in part, to funding from the Canada First Research Excellence Fund."

For those whose scholarship confirmation letter mentions the FRQ, please use the following wording:

"This research was conducted as part of the TransMedTech Institute's activities and thanks, in part, to funding from Fonds de recherche du Québec."

Qualified Professionals Recruitment Program

In all professional publications, reports, presentations, conferences material and other communications, TransMedTech Institute Highly Qualified Professionals must acknowledge the contribution of the TransMedTech Institute and its primary financial partner by using the following wording:

"Access to this expertise is possible thanks to the TransMedTech Institute and its primary funding partner, the Canada First Research Excellence Fund."

For those whose scholarship confirmation letter mentions the FRQ, please use the following wording:

"This research was conducted as part of the TransMedTech Institute's activities and thanks, in part, to funding from Fonds de recherche du Québec."

Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Award of Excellence

In all publications, reports, presentations, conferences and other professional communications, TransMedTech

Institute graduate students and postdoctoral fellows must acknowledge the contribution of the TransMedTech Institute and its primary financial partner by using the following wording:

"This scholarship is funded by the TransMedTech Institute and its primary funding partner, the Canada First Research Excellence Fund."

For those whose scholarship confirmation letter mentions the FRQ, please use the following wording:

"This research was conducted as part of the TransMedTech Institute's activities and thanks, in part, to funding from Fonds de recherche du Québec."

